

PETRA ELDERLY CENTRE

Petra Elderly Centre is a comprehensive elderly care institution that provides:

- Dignified, need-based accommodation, healthcare, and a socially rich environment for senior citizens.
- Space for senior citizens to stay physically active and engaged by participating in various activities and programs.
- A platform for senior citizens to engage and contribute to socioeconomic issues, intergenerational conversations, and to harness elders' knowledge, experiences, and wisdom.
- The Centre also enables senior citizens to improve emotional health and cognitive functioning, which helps preserve knowledge and culture.

Vision:

Creating a model where elders are cared for and actively engaged in society.

Mission:

To design solutions that offer dignified support for senior citizens, their caregivers, and communities, while leveraging their knowledge and wisdom to contribute to the development of greater communities.

Values:

Dignity, Purpose, Wellness

FOUNDER'S INSPIRATION

Stergomena Lawrence Tax and Agapinus Lawrence Tax are the Co-Founders of Petra Elderly Centre. Petra is an abbreviation for Petronilla, the mother of Stergomena, Agapinus, and Ladislai, a remarkable lady who was born on July 6, 1928, and passed away on August 13, 2016.

In 2007, it became evident that Petronilla, once a young and energetic woman who dedicated her life to teaching and nurturing others, had advanced in age and required care. Her children did their best to care for their ailing mother, but unfortunately, they were unable to provide the care and support she deserved as they were occupied with demanding jobs. Furthermore, life after retirement was not structured in a way that enabled her to remain engaged, contribute to society, share her knowledge and experiences with younger generations as a retired teacher and senior citizen.
